1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-38 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-40 of U.S. Patent No. 6,733,783 B2. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of the application are generic to the species of invention claims of the patent with respect to the controlled release material. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art modify the controlled release material in order to obtain optimum release rates. It has been well settled that obviousness-type double patenting rejections of application claims that are generic to species of invention claim covered by a patent claim are proper, since the patentee could gain an extension of term on a species when the broad genus is later issued and since without terminal disclaimer, extant species claims preclude issuance of generic application claims. In re Emert, 44 USPQ2d 1152 (CAFC 1997); In re Goodman, 29 USPQ 2d, 2010 (CAFC 1993); and In re Van Ornum, 214 USPQ 761, 767, (CCPA 1982).
